

1. OBJECTIVE:

Establish the activities that must be conducted for the reception, registration, management, monitoring and closure effective of PQRS and complaints from third parties for services provided by ICONTEC.

2. SCOPE

This procedure applies to all ICONTEC processes at the regional and subsidiary level.

This procedure applies to all requests, complaints, claims, suggestions and from third parties that are submitted to ICONTEC. It begins with the reception by the means defined in this procedure, until the actions required by the person in charge of each service are taken.

3. DEFINITIONS

3.1 Request

It is when an interested party requests ICONTEC any information related to the provision of the service. With immediate processing, commercial opportunity, sale of standards and publications by the online store or ecollection subscription service.

3.2 Complaint

Expression of dissatisfaction made by a person and organization, regarding their products, care provided by a collaborator, service provision or the complaint handling process itself, where an explicit or implicit response or resolution is expected.

Examples: Technical complaints for service provision, deliverables, service scheduling, others.

3.3 Suggestion

Any kind of recommendation delivered by an interested party, which aims to improve the products and/or services provided by ICONTEC.

3.4 Congratulation

Acknowledgment of behaviors or actions of officers.

3.5 Customer

Natural or legal person that receives a service and/or product.

3.6 Third party

Person or organization that uses the products or receives the services of a customer of ICONTEC and that files a complaint to ICONTEC.

3.7 Complaint of third party

Dissatisfaction communicated to ICONTEC and submitted by a person or organization regarding a customer of an ICONTEC conformity assessment service.

3.8 Intermediate assessment

It is the review of the PQRS by the Customer Service process in order to confirm that it is related to a service provided by ICONTEC; it describes the elements required to carry out the treatment according to procedure P-SC-0002 (activity 4 of this procedure) and can be assigned to the Customer Service Operator

3.9 Claims:

Extremely sensitive complaint that may represent an economic, commercial and/or reputational risk with our client due to the impact of the complaint received.

3.10 Restitution:

To repair, compensate or indemnify a damage or harm to customers who have filed a claim.

4. GENERAL TERMS

4.1 In order to increase customer satisfaction, all employees must ensure compliance with the guidelines defined in this procedure, acting with rigor and seriousness in accordance with the obligations acquired, the promises made, the time agreed with customers, and in compliance with institutional principles and values.

4.2 All ICONTEC collaborators can receive through any channel a PQRS from a client, and the Customer Service Coordination must be notified through an email.

NOTE: The minimum essential data to receive a complaint: contact name, telephone, email, company (if applicable), subject, product and/or service.

4.3 In the event that the PQRS reaches an area, regional or subsidiary and it is not reported to the Customer Service Coordination, the responsibility for processing the complaint will be of the area, regional or subsidiary that did not report it and a Nonconformity will be raised for non-compliance with procedure P-SC-0002 TREATMENT OF PQRS AND THIRD PARTY COMPLAINTS.

Note: No complaint should be processed and handled without the registration and formalization of customer service.

4.4 Within ICONTEC's commitment to address PQRS, customers must be informed about the communication channels they can use to contact us for this purpose. Therefore, all advertising media and materials: folding, videos, as well as institutional stationery: business cards, letterhead stationery, envelopes; electronic signatures of all internal and external collaborators, institutional billboards, among others, must include a clear and prominent reference to the ICONTEC website and/or email cliente@ICONTEC.org, as a point of institutional contact and customer service.

4.5 The channels through which any customer can contact ICONTEC to file PQRS are:

Written:

NOTE:

All third-party complaints must be submitted in writing.

Complaints submitted in a language other than Spanish will only be received in writing.

Repossessions and appeals must be analyzed to identify whether or not they include a complaint.

4.6 To keep track of information on the PQRS and third-party complaints, there is the PQRS Base and thirdparty complaints F-SC-0001, additionally there is a planner tool which allows monitoring the defined time frames by means of automatic alarms and attach evidence of commitments and progress.

4.7 Complaints must be solved and/or answered within 15 working days from the next working day from the date of receipt at ICONTEC. Communication of the decision made in response to the request of the customer and/or third party must be reviewed by one or more persons who have not previously been involved in the PQR and must be approved only by the directors and/or managers of the technical units, cross sectional directors; regional directors, branch managers, process leaders or customer service coordination.

4.8 All complaints must have an objective, coherent and timely response, in order to satisfy them regardless of the response, for example, if the customer indicates that he/she has not received the invoice, it will not be enough to send the invoice as communication to this customer, this must be accompanied by a response offering apologies according to the templates established by the customer service process.

4.9 When the resolution of the PQRS will take longer than the time established in point 4.7 to provide a final response, a communication should be sent with partial information on the status of the complaint.

4.10 ICONTEC will only analyze an anonymous or without identification of the sender PQRS if it is a respectful statement, with reasons of fact, supported, that provides evidence and that is within the scope of ICONTEC for each particular service. In any case, it will be registered in the PQRS and third-party complaints database and the Customer Service process will determine the need to take further action. In the case of messages received by electronic means, doubtful identifications, must be verified before initiating the process, in order to classify them as anonymous or not.

4.11 The PQRS submitted by a customer with several locations must be notified to the regional/subsidiary responsible for the customer and processed from the regional / subsidiary involved.

4.12 For the sale of standards and publications service, through the online store or the subscription service e-collection, the cases where the customer followed the steps indicated with the technical requirements for using the tool, but it was impossible to make use of it, shall be considered a complaint.

4.13 The following guidelines shall be used to take improvement actions in response to complaints:

1. Severity of non-compliance: economic, reputational and/or legal impact.
2. Every four months a report shall be generated where the complaints are analyzed taking into account the following:
 - ✓ Recurrence by the same customer or by more users for the same product or service.
 - ✓ Repeatability of PQRS.

According to the analysis performed, the process leader together with the Organizational Management process must evaluate the need to establish non-conforming service or improvement actions; in case of generating improvement actions, the guidelines of P-GO-0004 PROCEDURE IMPROVEMENT OF THE INTEGRATED MANAGEMENT SYSTEM must be followed and in case of non-conforming service, the guidelines of P-GO-0005 Procedure Control of Non-Conforming Outputs must be followed.

4.14 A report will be generated every six months that analyzes complaints considering the following: -Severity of the breach. - Recurrence by the same customer or by more users towards the same product or service. According to the analysis conducted, the process leader together with the Organizational Management process must evaluate the need to establish improvement actions. In case of generating improvement actions, the guidelines of the Improvement of the Integrated Management System P-GO-0004 procedure must be followed.

4.15 For complaints processing, they are divided into types, each with its corresponding responsible officer as shown in the following table:

Typology	Service	Responsible
Technician	Accreditation Health Education Product Certification Inspection Management Systems Certification Validation and Verification Standardization	Customer service operator appointed by the corresponding UT.
Deliverables	Education	Customer service operator delegated by the Technical Unit.

	Health Accreditation Inspection Validation and Verification	Customer service operator appointed by the corresponding TU.

	Education Certification Product Management Systems Certification Validation and Verification	Customer service operator appointed by Resource Planning.
Commercial	All services	Customer service operator appointed by the corresponding Regional office
Other	All services	Per intermediate assessment

4.16 Suggestions and congratulations will be sent to the corresponding Technical Unit or Directorate. They are responsible for considering actions based on the information provided by Customer Service.

4.17 All complaints and claims are managed considering the guidelines of the PO-GE-0001 Code of Ethics.

4.18 If the same complaint arrives by more than 2 different means, the first complaint that has reached Customer Service will be recorded on the F-SC-0001 PQRS and Third-Party Complaints Base Format.

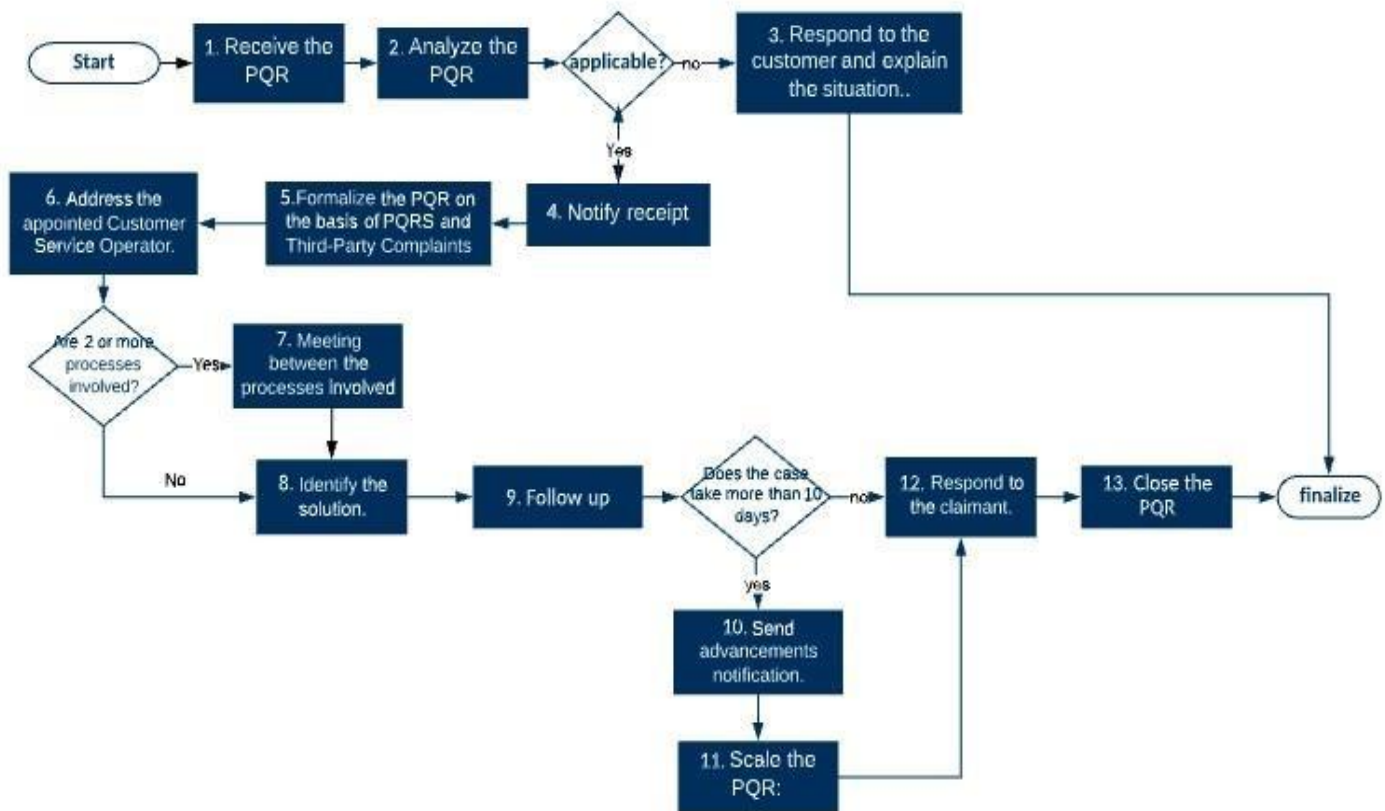

4.19 When an economic, commercial and/or reputational risk is identified with our customer due to the impact of the complaint received, the compensation must be approved by Technical Management, Corporate Relations Management and/or Operations Management and delivered by Customer Service Coordination.

Compensation will be determined based on the severity of the complaint, considering the following factors:

- ✓ Impact on the customer: including economic losses, penalties or investigations arising from the complaint.
- ✓ Reputational risk
- ✓ Business relationship with ICONTEC.

4.20 ICONTEC ensures that all investigations and decisions concerning complaints are conducted in a manner that precludes any form of discriminatory action.
